THIS work is intended to supply a want which has been long felt by those engaged in the business of the Church Courts. It aspires to be something more than a mere Index. The analysis of the Acts is so full, and the Digest of the Proceedings and Decisions so particular, that, for ordinary practice, it will of itself be sufficient, it is hoped, as a convenient book of reference ; while to those who wish for fuller information in regard to any ecclesiastical matter, it indicates where that information may be found, without the trouble of, what is at present necessary, a long and laborious search.

It was intended to have given a digest of the cases of disputed settlements that have come under the review of the Assembly, but these were found to be so numerous as to require a much larger volume than the present to make them intelligible ; the idea was therefore abandoned, but a list has been given of the cases in alphabetical order.

In such an Index, referring to the Enactments and Decisions of the Assembly for more than a century and a half, many things have probably been omitted ; but the compiler has been careful to verify his references, and hopes they will be found correct so far as they go.

The Roman numerals have been employed to denote the Acts, and the small figures the Sessions of Assembly: for example—1847. viii., means Act viii. of Assembly 1847; and 1847. 8, means Assembly 1847, Session 8.

Grateful acknowledgments are due to the late Dr Simpson, Clerk of Assembly, and William Young, Esq., W.S., Agent for the Church, and their successors in office, for their advice and assistance, and for kindly allowing access to the documents connected with the different cases decided by the Assembly, without which it would, in many instances, have been impossible to state the grounds on which the decisions were given, these not being always reported in the abridgment annually appended to the printed Acts.

Before the candidates were proposed two motions were submitted as to the mode of election. The first being in effect, that in conformity with the invariable practice of the Church, only one vote should be taken on all the candidates, and that the candidate having the greatest number of votes should be declared duly elected ; and the second being, that a vote should first be taken on all the candidates, and that the candidate having the smallest number of votes should be struck off the list ; that this process should be repeated till the number of candidates was reduced to two, when the decision of the Assembly should be taken between these two, and the candidate having the greatest number of votes to be declared duly elected. The first motion was carried by a majority of 171 to 158. It was agreed that any member might demand a scrutiny, and, with a view to this, every member's vote was marked. Annuity-Tax. The Commission, without a vote, agreed to a series of resolutions strongly disapproving of an arrangement proposed by a Select Committee of the House of Commons with reference to the annuity-tax in the city of Edinburgh “as a confiscation of the patrimony of the Church inconsistent with the principles of an establishment, and highly injurious to the interests of religion.” Com., Nov. 19, 1851.

——— Appeals to the General Assembly, together with the record and evidence adduced, to be printed in sufficient numbers—viz., 450 at least—so as to afford a copy to every member of Assembly ; which printed papers shall be lodged with the agent for the Church on or before the Monday preceding the meeting of Assembly, otherwise the appeal shall be held as fallen from. 1850. xiv. 17.

——— The same method to be followed in appeals from kirk-sessions to presbyteries, and from presbyteries to synods, and from synods to the General Assembly. 1707. xi. chap. v. 9.

——— An overture proposing that the members of the inferior court from which an appeal is brought should not be prohibited from judging in the superior courts, was transmitted to presbyteries in 1730, 1741, 1754, 1771, 1772, and 1773, but not passed.

Appeals. A party failing to compear at the hour of cause to insist in his appeal, the appeal was found to be deserted and fallen from, and declared null and void. 1743, ult., and others.

—— An overture proposing to allow presbyteries to proceed with the settlement of parishes in the face of appeals, when the opposition was small, referred to the Commission. 1759. 7.

—— The Presbytery of Arbroath having settled a minister in the church and parish of Arbroath in the face of an appeal taken to the Assembly, the Assembly waived the consideration of said appeal, and found that the ordination and settlement of Mr Gleig were good and valid, seeing that they had already taken place; but that the presbytery had acted irregularly, and were subject to censure. The presbytery were ordered to sist themselves at the bar of next General Assembly to answer for their conduct, which they did, and were severely censured for their “highly irregular and incompetent” procedure. 1789. 8; 1789. 9; 1790. 5.

—— Appeals found to be incompetent, because the reasons of appeal were not lodged with the clerk in due time. 1790. 6; 1807. 6; 1834. 5; 1846, ult.; Com., 1839, Aug. 15.

—— An appeal dismissed as incompetent because (in violation of Act of Assembly 1639, sess. 23) it had been taken directly from the presbytery to the Assembly, and not to the intervening meeting of synod. 1807. 4.

—— An appeal against a decision of the Presbytery of Brechin having been objected to on the ground that it had been taken directly to the General Assembly, though two meetings of the synod intervened, the Assembly, “considering the peculiar circumstances of the case, agreed to waive the question how far the appeal had been correctly taken, no such objection having been stated by the respondents, and resolved to hear the case on the merits.” 1833, ult.

—— An appeal from the Presbytery of Irvine having been objected to on the ground that it had been taken to the General Assembly, and not to the synod, which met six days after the judgment appealed from, the Assembly, by a majority of 50 to 41, resolved to waive consideration of the point of form, and proceed to hear the appellants—Principal Lee and several others dissenting. 1845. 14.

Appeals. In a case relating to the erection of a chapel of ease, the reasons of appeal had not been lodged in due time; but the appellants having assigned a special reason for the delay, and shown that it was undesigned on their part, the Assembly ex gratia agreed to pass from the objection and to hear the appellants. 1826. 8.

——— An appeal can be taken only by a party, and immediately after the sentence has been intimated. 1836. 9.

——— A party having at the time acquiesced in a sentence of the synod, afterwards refused to obtemper it on the plea that he had not understood it, and on being called to account at a subsequent meeting, he appealed to the Assembly. The Assembly found that the sentence of synod not having been appealed from had become final, and dismissed the appeal. 1839. 11.

——— Presbytery in prosecuting a cause not to be sisted in their procedure by intermediate complaints and appeals, but not to pronounce final judgment until such complaints and appeals have been fallen from or determined. 1829. 6.

——— A member of an inferior court, not being a party, cannot appeal from any sentence of that court to a superior judicatory, but may enter his dissent and protest for leave to complain. 1738, ult.

——— In an appeal against a sentence of the Synod of Angus and Mearns, the Assembly found that the synod had taken up the case upon the appeal of certain members of presbytery, who, not being parties, had no right to appeal, and that consequently the sentence of the synod was incompetent. 1812. 9.

——— A member of synod having appealed against a sentence which, as he alleged, affected his character, and the synod having refused to enter his appeal on the record, he brought the case before the Assembly by a petition. The Assembly referred the case to the Commission, who dismissed the petition as incompetent, on the ground that the petitioner should have come before them by a dissent and complaint. Com., June 3, 1845.

Appeals. Not competent to appeal from a presbytery to a superior Church court, in cases relating to manses, glebes, and churchyard walls, &c. 1826. 7.

—— Not competent for a presbytery to receive an appeal when obtempering an appointment of synod. 1849. 8.

—— A party protested against a sentence of a presbytery, but did not add that it was for “leave to appeal.” Reasons of appeal, however, were given in due time; but the presbytery refused them on the ground that, as no appeal had been taken at the proper time, no reasons of appeal could afterwards be received. He brought the case before the Assembly by petition. The Assembly found that, as no competent appeal had been taken at the time when the sentence complained of was intimated, said sentence had become final. They accordingly dismissed the petition, but disapproved of the conduct of the presbytery. 1837. 6.

Argyle. The Synod of Argyle authorised to meet alternately at Lochgilphead and Inveraray on the first Wednesday of September annually. 1842. xxiii.

The Moderator having requested a conference with the Lord High Commissioner in regard to the evils resulting from the observance of certain state ceremonies on the Sabbath-day, His Grace intimated that he had brought the matter under the notice of His Majesty, who had been graciously pleased to approve of the discontinuance of the public dinners on the Lord's Day, and to leave it to His Grace to make such arrangements on the other subjects as might appear to him expedient, and most in accordance with the wishes of the Assembly. 1834. 4.

Assembly Beadles. A collection made in the Assembly for the beadles, and referred to the Commission anent a suitable allowance to them. 1710. 9.

Assistant-Minister. A minister being laid aside from duty by indisposition, the Assembly found that the presbytery were not at liberty to appoint a substitute or assistant until a vacancy occurred; and in the event of the continued indisposition of the minister rendering it necessary to make provision for the regular administration of ordinances, the presbytery were enjoined to proceed according to the rules of the Church. 1808. 4.

——— In a case regarding the appointment of an assistant, the Commission, finding that no adequate supply had been provided by the incumbent for the discharge of ministerial duty, empowered the presbytery, so long as he failed to provide the services of a resident assistant, themselves to do so, by the aid of such contributions as they might be able to raise. Com., June 2, 1842.

Assistant-Minister. On a reference from the Presbytery of Arbroath, the Commission recommended them to take the opinion of counsel as to whether the assistant-minister of Arbroath, in the event of his being admitted to the position of a colleague minister, with a seat in the Church courts, would still be entitled to the benefit of the mortification mentioned in the reference. Com., Nov. 16, 1842.

Assistant. A minister being incapacitated for the discharge of his duties, the presbytery ordained an assistant with power to hold sessions and exercise discipline; and there being no elders in the parish, the assistant announced the names of certain persons to the congregation, and no objections being offered he ordained said persons elders, and admitted them members of that kirk-session. The Assembly on a reference found that, as it appeared from the minutes and official documents produced that the persons specified as elders in the reference had not been ordained according to the rules and laws of the Church, their ordination was null and void. 1827. 6.

Assistant and Successor. An overture and interim Act was transmitted to presbyteries for four successive years, but not passed into a standing law, by which it was proposed that a minister and his ordained assistant and successor should both be constituent members of kirk-session; that in the presbytery and synod either of them who was present might deliberate and vote, but if both were present this privilege to belong only to the parish minister; and that either of them might be elected a member of the General Assembly, but not both in one year. 1784. vii.; 1787. ix.

—— An overture anent the right and power of ordained assistants and successors advising, voting, and determining in causes coming before presbyteries and synods, read and referred to the Commission. 1759. 7.

—— An overture to the effect that an ordained assistant and successor ought not to sit as an elder in a kirk-session, nor summon meetings of session, nor preside therein, was transmitted to presbyteries, but not passed. 1806. v.

—— A synod having found that an ordained assistant and successor was a constituent member of the kirk-session, the Assembly reversed the judgment, and found that an assistant and successor is not a constituent member of kirk-session, except in the absence of his principal. 1806. 8.

Assistant and Successor. An assistant and successor and his principal cannot both be members of presbytery at the same time. The assistant and successor may act in presence of his principal, but cannot act along with him. 1833. 4.

—— Declared to be not contrary to the principles and practice of the Church of Scotland to elect an assistant and successor a commissioner to the General Assembly, in the presence of his principal, whose name was entered on the sederunt when the election took place. 1834. 4.

—— An assistant and successor, as moderator of presbytery, attested the commissions from the presbytery to the General Assembly, when a complaint was taken against the attestation, on the ground that it was not competent for him to act as moderator in presence of his principal. The question came before the Assembly as to the validity of the commissions, which were sustained, on the ground that they were in themselves formal and regular, and that the mere presence of the principal did not incapacitate the assistant and successor from acting, unless the principal made a formal demand to be received as a member of court, and to have the name of the assistant and successor struck out of the sederunt, which, in the case before the House, it did not appear from the minutes that he had done. 1833. 3 and 4.

—— A motion for a committee to inquire into the status of assistants and successors rejected as unnecessary, the law on the subject being already as clear as it was possible to make it. 1834. 8.

—— A minister having, from infirmity of body and imbecility of mind, for several years been incapable of discharging the pastoral duties of his parish, and there being no prospect of his recovery, the presbytery, at the request of the heritors and elders, agreed to sustain a presentation in favour of an assistant and successor. Their judgment was brought under review of the Assembly on the ground that the consent of the incumbent had not been obtained. The Assembly affirmed the judgment of the presbytery, and instructed them to proceed to the settlement of an assistant and successor—declaring, however, that in the circumstances of the case no part of the stipend nor any of the emoluments could be allocated for his maintenance ; and that if it should please God to restore the incumbent to the sound exercise of his judgment, it would then instantly become incompetent for the assistant and successor to discharge any part of the pastoral duties of the parish, or to sit and vote in any Church court, without the explicit consent of the incumbent. 1813. 5.

Assistant and Successor. A civil action pending as to the right of a town-council to appoint an assistant and successor, the Assembly instructed the presbytery to proceed according to the rules of the Church, but not to complete the settlement till the decision of the civil court should be pronounced. 1830. 7.

——— A minister under a fama was enjoined by the presbytery and synod to consent to the appointment of an assistant and successor on certain conditions. The Assembly, on appeal, reversed the sentence of the inferior courts, and directed the presbytery to investigate the charges against the minister according to the rules of the Church. 1839. 11.

Note.—For a clear and comprehensive summary of the law and practice of the Church in regard to assistants and successors, see Lord Moncreiff's Note on the Tron Church case, December 24, 1831 ; see also the speeches of Dr Cook and Mr Dunlop on the Dunoon case, Assembly 1834, sessions 3 and 4.

—— Report of said Committee. The Assembly resolve to apply to Parliament. Committee appointed for that purpose. 1750. 4, 7, 10.

If they reside in different parishes, they must be proclaimed in both. Not to be considered as residenters until they have resided six weeks within the parish. No session-clerk to grant a certificate of proclamation unless he can certify that the parties are residenters, that they are unmarried, and not within the forbidden degrees of consanguinity. A form of certificate prescribed. 1782, ult.

—— All Acts rescissory to be transmitted as overtures in terms of the Barrier Act. 1736. viii.

—— An Act having been passed by the Assembly in 1752 (Act vii.), entitled “An Act concerning Presbyteries neglecting to send up their opinions upon overtures transmitted to them,” it was, in consequence of remonstrances, transmitted as an overture by the Assembly of 1753, and re-enacted in 1758 with the consent of a majority of the presbyteries of the Church, to the effect that when overtures have been twice transmitted, the General Assembly will, without further transmission, take them into consideration, and pass them into Acts or reject them as they shall see cause, although presbyteries have not sent up their opinions. 1758. v.

—— The Assembly of 1745 having enacted that the Rules of the Form of Process, chap. vii., with respect to informations against ministers, should be made applicable to probationers, the Assembly of 1746 found that this had been done in violation of the Barrier Act, and transmitted the proposal as an overture to presbyteries. 1746. xi.

—— Declaration of Assembly 1814, anent the union of offices, declared to have been passed in violation of the Barrier Act, and not to be regarded as a standing law, nor binding upon the Church. A new overture and interim Act for preventing the improper union of offices, transmitted to presbyteries. 1816. 6.

—— The Committee for classing returns to overtures having reported that twenty presbyteries had reported that year in favour of a particular overture, and twenty-three in former years, making in all a majority of one approving, the Assembly found that “in respect there are not this year returns from a majority of the presbyteries of the Church approving of the overture, the necessary consent of the Church has not been obtained,” and therefore directed said overture to be retransmitted. 1849. 9.

Note.—For a full exposition of the nature and effects of the Barrier Act, see the debate on the subject in Assembly Bells. The Assembly found and declared that “the power of regulating the time and manner of ringing the bells of the parish church, as connected with ecclesiastical and religious purposes, belongs exclusively to the minister of the parish,” and remitted to a committee to take such steps as might be considered proper for vindicating the rights of the Church. 1818. 6; 1823. 5.

——— The Assembly found that the conduct of a bellman, in refusing to ring the bell when expressly desired to do so by the parish minister, was highly reprehensible, and instructed the procurator and agent to give advice, if applied to, to the kirk-session for preserving the rights of the Church. 1823. 5.

—— In the case of a woman cohabiting with a man to whom it was alleged she had been married before a quorum of justices, while another man, to whom she had been lawfully married, was still alive, the Assembly instructed the procurator and agent to lay the reference, and all the circumstances of the case, before the Lord Advocate, for his advice. ——— Enacted that no student shall be entered upon the roll of any professor, unless he shall produce a certificate from the minister of the parish in which he has his usual residence, or in his absence, or during a vacancy in said parish, from some neighbouring minister, that his character is suitable to his views, together with certificates from the several professors of philosophy under whom he had studied; and a certificate from the presbytery within whose bounds he chiefly resides, that he has, in a satisfactory manner, passed an examination upon his knowledge in the Christian religion, as it is exhibited in the catechetical standards of the Church. He shall also, at the commencement of every session of his course previous to being enrolled, produce to the professor a certificate from the presbytery of his having been examined by them on the progress made by him in his studies, and also a certificate of his good moral character from the minister of his parish.

Enacted, further, that no student shall be admitted to trials for licence unless he produces to the presbytery a certificate or certificates from the professors of divinity under whom he has studied, that he has prosecuted his studies and delivered his discourses in the manner prescribed by the laws of the Church, and that his conduct has been in every respect suitable to his views in life; which certificates the presbytery shall record in their minutes at full length, and transmit an extract thereof to the synod clerk to be laid before the synod. 1849. x.; 1827. vii.; 1837. ix.; 1837. 8; 1813. viii.

—— A minister having refused to give a student a certificate to qualify him for being admitted into the Divinity Hall, unless he signed a declaration of his opinions in regard to non-intrusion and the independent jurisdiction of the Church, the student brought the matter before the Assembly by petition and complaint, and the Assembly permitted the student to be enrolled without the certificate. 1841. 6.

—— The progress of a student's trials having been stopped, in consequence of his certificates not having been produced at the meeting of synod, the Assembly called for the required certificates; and being satisfied therewith, and that their non-production was not owing to any neglect on the part of the student, directed the presbytery to proceed with his trials according to the laws of the Church. 1853. 6.

—— A presbytery having refused a certificate to a presentee, in consequence of its being reported that, in a letter to the patron, he had stated it as his opinion that it was the duty of ministers to obey the laws as interpreted by the civil courts, or if their consciences were aggrieved by so doing, to resign their livings as ministers of the Established Church, the Assembly remitted the case to the presbytery, with instructions to refuse the certificate (1842. 10). But in the following year, on the case again coming before the Assembly, they instructed the presbytery to proceed with the settlement. 1843. 8.

—— In a case similar to the foregoing, the Assembly approved of the diligence of the presbytery in instituting an investigation, but found that, under the circumstances, there was no sufficient reason for refusing the certificate. 1842. 12.

—— The Assembly dismissed as unnecessary an overture anent presbyterial certificates, on the ground that sufficient provision was already made on the subject in the existing laws of the Church. 1848, ult.

—— A presbytery having sustained a presentation, and proceeded to the trials of a presentee without his producing a presbyterial certificate, the Assembly cased and annulled all the proceedings of the presbytery from the time the presentation was laid on their table, and inhibited them from sustaining said presentation until a satisfactory presbyterial certificate in favour of the presentee was laid before them. 1849. 5.

Certificate, Presbyterial. A presbytery having refused a certificate to a probationer, who had for some time resided and acted as assistant to a member of presbytery, on the ground that he had not produced an extract of licence or presbyterial certificate, nor reported himself to said presbytery when he came to reside within their bounds, the Assembly, on petition, reversed the sentence of the presbytery, and found that they were not entitled, on the simple ground of the probationer's error in neglecting to report himself, to refuse him a certificate on his departure, inasmuch as they were bound to exercise superintendence over him as a preacher regularly officiating in one of the pulpits within their bounds; further, they declared that his status as a licentiate should not be affected by such refusal, and instructed the clerk to grant him a certificate to this effect. 1850. 13.

Certificate, Elder's. Enacted that, along with every commission to the Assembly in favour of a ruling elder, there shall be produced a certificate from the kirk-session of which he is a member, that he is bonâ fide an acting elder. 1839. xii.; 1841. xi.; 1850. xiv.

——— The General Assembly, judging it expedient that no chapel of ease should be erected without the knowledge and approbation of the General Assembly, prescribed the steps necessary to be taken by the presbytery on a petition being laid before them for the erection of a chapel of ease; enjoined them to report the whole circumstances of the case to the Assembly, and not to pronounce any judgment on the petition until they had received the special directions of the Assembly thereon. 1798. v.

—— Ministers of chapels of ease declared constituent members of presbyteries and synods, and eligible to sit in the General Assembly, and entitled to enjoy every privilege as fully and freely, and with equal powers, with parish ministers of this Church, by a majority of 153 to 103; and presbyteries enjoined to allot territorial districts to said ministers. 1834. ix.

Com., Aug. 14, 1840; June 2, 1841; Aug. 11, 1841. Ass. 1842. 9.

—— A minister under libel having protested that the whole proceedings in his case were vitiated and rendered null and void by the participation of a chapel minister as a member of presbytery, and having obtained a note of suspension and interdict against the presbytery, the Assembly found him liable to the highest censures of the Church, and summoned him to appear at their bar. Having appeared accordingly, he was sentenced to be deposed, and his church and parish declared vacant. 1842. 13 and 17.

Chapels of Ease: Declared that the principle on which the Act ix., 1834, is founded, is a fundamental principle of this Church, to which she is resolved, by the grace of God, at all hazards to adhere. 1842. 17.

—— An elder, in a case affecting his qualification, having declined the jurisdiction of the presbytery on the ground that several chapel ministers had been admitted as members of the court, the Commission found that he had acted in contempt of the authority of the Church, and declared him incapable of sitting and voting in any ecclesiastical judicatory, aye and until he should withdraw his declinature of the jurisdiction of the presbytery. Com., Aug. 10, 1842.

—— A motion not to enrol chapel ministers in the sederunt of the Commission, on the ground that it had been declared by the highest legal authority that the General Assembly could not by its own act give such ministers a valid and legal title to sit as members of the ecclesiastical judicatories of the Established Church, rejected by a majority of 115 to 23. Com., Jan. 31, 1843.

—— The Acts of Assembly, 1833, 1834, and 1839, by which ministers of chapels of ease became members of Church courts, rescinded, the same having been incompetently passed, and a special commission appointed to petition Her Majesty that measures might be taken to have the unendowed districts created legally and properly into parishes, and endowments provided for their ministers. 1843. x.

—— Ordained that in the event of the minister of a chapel of ease in one presbytery being presented to any charge within the bounds of another presbytery, notification shall be given by the latter presbytery to the former, of the different steps to be taken by them in order to his settlement, which notification shall be duly acknowledged. 1856. xii.

—— Petition and complaint against a sentence of the Commission rejected by the Assembly, on the ground that the petitioner had no right to be heard on allegations which tended merely to show that, in his judgment, the Commission had passed an erroneous judgment. To hear him would be to place him on the footing of an appellant, to which standing he had no title. 1853. 11.

Commissions.—See ELECTIONS.

A presbytery having refused to attest a commission from a burgh, the Assembly found that the conduct of the presbytery in so doing was unwarranted, and injurious both to the burgh and to their commissioner, sustained the commission, and ordered a copy of their judgment to be recorded in the presbytery book. 1772. 3.

Similar cases. 1772. 4; 1781. 4; 1782. 4; 1783. 4; 1749. 3.

Assembly, or the want of certain clauses respecting the qualifications of members. 1754. 9; 1755. 3.

A presbytery having found that, after election, one of the ministers chosen to represent them in the General Assembly had laid himself open to censure, elected another minister in his room. The Assembly, after hearing the charge against the minister first elected, suspended him for three months from the exercise of his ministry; finding him, however, to be the member duly elected, and that it was not competent for the presbytery, at an after meeting, to alter that election; but, in respect of his suspension, the Assembly declared him to be deprived of his privilege as a member. 1758. 6.

A presbytery having refused to admit upon their roll an elder bringing a commission from a kirk-session, but who was, on appeal, found by the Assembly to have been duly elected, the Assembly found that the election of commissioners to the Assembly having taken place when a constituent member of presbytery was excluded from voting in their election, the commission was null and void; and ordered the names of the commissioners to be scored out of the roll. 1766. 4.

Objected to the commission from the Church at Campvere that a minister had been commissioned instead of a ruling elder; the Assembly repelled the objection in the circumstances, and sustained the commission, but “without prejudice to their afterwards considering the general point whether clergymen can be elected as ruling elders, when it is brought regularly before them.” 1769. 4.

A commission from a burgh having been presented to a presbytery for attestation at a pro re nata meeting, the presbytery refused to attest it. Principal Robertson justified the presbytery on the principle that a presbytery met pro re nata could take no other business under consideration but the res for which they had been called together. The commission, however, was sustained. 1776. 3.

A similar case. 1736. 3.

A presbytery having discovered that the person first elected to be their representative ruling elder was not an elder, did, at a meeting within forty days of the Assembly, elect another by the form of substitution prescribed by the laws of the Church. The Assembly declared such substitution to be null and void, and rejected the commission. 1789. 5 and 6.

A presbytery having dissolved without fixing a day for their next meeting became defunct ; but certain of the members met and attested the commission from the presbytery and burgh. The Assembly rejected the commission from the presbytery as not duly attested, but sustained the commission from the burgh, and appointed a day for the next meeting of presbytery. 1775. 3 and 4.

A minister laid aside from being a member of Assembly until he should sign the formula prescribed by Act 1711, or produce a voucher of his having formerly subscribed the same. 1732. 3.

Declared competent for an elder to purge the objection that he had not signed the formula by signing it at the bar of the Assembly. 1719. 4 and 7 ; 1788. 3 ; 1796. 3.

A commission having been objected to on the ground that it was dated on the 30th April, and attested on the 27th of April, evidence was offered at the bar that the former of these dates was a clerical error, and that the election took place on the 30th of March. The Assembly ordered the original record of presbytery to be produced as evidence, and declared that, in the meanwhile, the commissioners were not to be considered members of the Assembly until it should be made to appear from said record that the election was made in proper time. 1791. 3.

It having been objected to a commission that it was made on the 28th of February, being nine days too soon, a member stated that the date was a mistake of the presbytery clerk, and that it was consistent with his knowledge that the election was made not on the 28th of February, but on the 28th of March, and the Presbytery Record having been produced in evidence, the commission was sustained. 1792. 3.

A similar case. 1793. 3; 1797. 3; 1846. 3.

It having been objected that the commissioner was not designed ruling elder, the Assembly, in respect the words "ruling elder" are found in one part of the commission, though omitted in the other, did repel the objection. 1797. 3.

Protestation by the Lord Provost of Edinburgh against admitting a commissioner from the University of Edinburgh without the Town Council's choice. 1719. 1.

A commission was dated the 8th day of April, and the Assembly met on the 18th May. The Assembly rejected the commission, on the ground that forty FREE days did not intervene between the day of election and the meeting of Assembly. 1848. 3.

In a similar case a different decision was given. A commission was dated the 11th of April, and the Assembly met on the 21st May, consequently forty FREE days did not intervene; but the Assembly found that the election took place on the fortieth day, if either the day of election or the day of the meeting of Assembly was counted, and sustained the commission. 1846. 3.

See also 1827. 3.

It was objected to a commission that ten free days did not intervene between the resolution to elect and the day of election; the resolution to elect having been on the 30th March, and the election on the 9th of April. The revising committee recommended that the commission should be sustained, in respect of the general rule, that when the last day of a specified term has commenced it is held to have been completed. The Assembly, however, rejected the commission, and found that the ten days must be ten free days. 1847. 3.

Similar cases decided differently. 1818. 3 ; 1832. 3.

A town council resolved to elect a representative elder at a meeting of council to be held on the 4th of April ; but finding that that did not allow ten days to intervene between the resolution to elect and the day of election, the meeting was adjourned to the 6th, and a marginal note added to the commission to that effect. The Assembly found that ten days had not intervened, and that the marginal note was an irregularity, and rejected the commission. 1831. 3.

It was objected to a commission that the election took place seventy-one days before the meeting of Assembly, the election being on the 6th of March, and the Assembly meeting on the 16th of May ; whereas, in the directions appended to the printed forms of commissions, it is prescribed that “the election must take place not less than forty and not more than seventy days before the meeting of the Assembly.” The Assembly repelled the objection and sustained the commission, on the ground that the 6th of March is “within a month preceding the first of the forty days,” as prescribed by Act x. 1783. 1833. 3.

A presbytery having rejected the commission of representative elders from kirk-sessions because the commissions did not in the preamble contain the names of the members, nor in the conclusion the name of the moderator; and further, that there was no evidence that the said elders had signed the Confession of Faith, or taken the oath of allegiance; the Commission found the conduct of the presbytery in rejecting the commission on these grounds highly improper and unjustifiable, and appointed this judgment to be recorded in the book of the presbytery. Presbytery of North Isles, Com., June 2, 1842.

A kirk-session having refused to grant a certificate of bona fide eldership to an elder who had been elected a commissioner to the General Assembly, on the ground that he had for several years ceased to attend public worship in his parish church, but attended the church of a neighbouring parish; the presbytery overruled the judgment of the kirk-session, and in place of the bona fide certificate, appended to the commission a brief statement of the circumstances of the case. The case came before the Assembly by dissent and complaint, when the following motion was carried by a majority of 72 to 49: "That the General Assembly sustain the dissent and complaint, reverse the sentence of the presbytery as irregular and incompetent, so far as it overrules the judgment of the kirk-session refusing the elder a certificate as a bona fide acting elder—that judgment not having been brought regularly before them: Find that the brief statement of circumstances referred to in that sentence of the presbytery cannot be received as a substitute for the bona fide certificate, and that the elder cannot hoc statu be entered in the roll of the Assembly. The Assembly, on appeal, found that the presbytery had acted irregularly and precipitately in accepting the demission of the minister before they had taken means to ascertain the state of his mind, and before they had called the people to appear for their interest. The Assembly, on the recommendation of the committee, enjoined that the ancient practice should be enforced, and uniformly observed. 1828. 9.

An order having been served on the presbytery to that effect, they lodged a formal declination of the sheriff's jurisdiction, and referred the matter to the Assembly for advice. Extracts. In a process of libel the presbytery refused to the prosecutor extracts of certain documents in their possession, which he alleged were necessary for the prosecution of the libel, on the ground that a pledge had been given by the presbytery to the defender that said documents should not be used as evidence against him in the superior courts. Extracts. The parties in a complaint having applied for the original jottings from which the minutes were made up to enable them to substantiate their complaints, and been refused by the presbytery, the Assembly found that they were entitled to be put in possession of said jottings. 1812. 9.

—— The defender in a cause being prevented, as was alleged, by sickness from appearing personally before the presbytery, the presbytery referred to the Assembly for advice as to whether they might proceed with the proof in the absence of the defender. —— In a case of libel the defender did not appear personally on the day fixed for considering the relevancy, but his agent sent in a letter craving a month's delay. The presbytery refused the petition and found the libel relevant, whereupon the defender brought the matter before —— It was objected that the copies of the libel and lists of witnesses served on the defender did not bear that the originals had been dated and subscribed by the moderator, but only by the clerk and officers ; and that, if the originals had been so dated and subscribed, the service copies were, in that important particular, disconform to the originals ; and that, in either view, the service was bad. The Assembly repelled the objection and dismissed the appeal. Com., June 3, 1840.

Objected that the warrant of citation, and citation following thereon, did not allow ten free days to lodge answers before the day of compareance, and a second ten free days between the lodging of the answers and the day of compareance. —— A presbytery having been petitioned to inquire into certain circumstances affecting the character of a minister, and as two individuals cognisant of these circumstances were about to leave the country, they were further petitioned to proceed immediately to take the evidence of these parties, to seal it up and keep it in retentis, to be made available, if necessary, in the future proceedings of the case. The Assembly found that the presbytery had acted irregularly in taking extrajudicial evidence in absence of any charge having been made, and before any libel had been served. 1834. 5.

—— A presbytery having resolved to libel a minister, he appealed to the synod, who sustained the appeal, and remitted the case to the presbytery, with instructions to state explicitly to the defender the charges they had to prefer against him, and to exhibit the documents on which these charges were founded. The Assembly reversed the sentence of the synod, and remitted to the presbytery, with instructions to proceed to consider the relevancy. 1845. 13.

—— In a process of libel for heresy, the defender requested the presbytery to deal with him in writing. The presbytery declined, and resolved to deal with him orally. different published works. The Assembly repelled the objection, and dismissed the appeal. 1841. 3.

The Assembly repelled both objections, and found that it was competent for the patron to institute the libel. 1845. 8.

—— A presbytery having allowed reprobatory proof to be taken on the part of the prosecution after the exculpatory proof, but, quoad ultra, holding the proof on either side to be closed, this sentence was appealed against, on the ground that it was contrary to justice to allow a prosecutor in a criminal case to lead proof after the accused party had brought evidence against that on which the prosecution proceeded. The Assembly sustained the appeal, to the effect of expunging all the evidence led after the defender's witnesses had been examined. 1853. 5.

—— An appeal was taken, on the ground that the place of the presbytery meeting was not set forth in either the warrant or the citation; and that it was not stated with whom the defences were to be lodged—the warrant and citation being in these words, “to cite him to appear personally before the said presbytery at their next meeting, which is appointed to take place at St Andrews, on Friday the third day of September next, in the hour of cause, at 11 o'clock forenoon.” The Assembly dismissed the appeal. 1853. 5.

Resignation. A minister having resigned, and the presbytery having accepted his resignation, he was summoned to appear before the Assembly to answer for his conduct in giving up his ministerial charge. ——— The resignation of a minister having been accepted by a presbytery, the Assembly declared him no longer a minister of the Church of Scotland, and incapable of receiving a presentation or call. 1799. 6.

——— A minister having given in the resignation of his parish to the presbytery, he being appointed to a professorship, the presbytery allowed it to lie on the table till next ordinary meeting. A question arose as to whether the parish became vacant on the day when the resignation was given in, or on the day when it was accepted, the Assembly found that the vacancy took place only on the acceptance of the resignation by the presbytery. 1859. 14.

——— A minister having sent in a resignation of his parish to the parish on the plea of bad health, the presbytery at once accepted the resignation, and declared the parish vacant. At a subsequent meeting the minister solicited the presbytery to reconsider their judgment, on the ground that he had been concussed into signing the letter of resignation. The presbytery found that it was incompetent for them to comply with the request, the matter being res judicata. ——— A presbytery having accepted the resignation of a minister in very peculiar circumstances, the Assembly, on the ground that these circumstances were not explained in the extract minutes produced, cited the presbytery to appear before the Commission, and to bring the records of presbytery, with all the minutes relating to the matter engrossed. At which meeting the Commission found that the presbytery had acted irregularly in not summoning the parishioners as parties, and in accepting the resignation without specifying distinctly in their minutes the ground on which they came to that judgment. —— Anent the administration of sacraments by deposed and excommunicated ministers or others not qualified. 1719. 8.

—— Thursday ordered to be continued as a fast-day before the Sacrament of the Supper as formerly. Declared to be inexpedient for synods or presbyteries to appoint any general alteration of the diets of public worship at such solemn occasions till the matter be considered by the General Assembly. 1751. 9.

—— The Synod of Argyle having appointed the sermons on the Saturday before and Monday after the Sacrament to be discontinued, the Assembly, on appeal, allowed the appellants to have sermon on the Saturday, as they saw it to be for edification. 1762. 6.

—— Declared that the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper ought to be dispensed within the bounds of the Church at least once every year; that the time of dispensing it is left in every parish to the discretion of the minister and elders, yet that is not a wise exercise of this discretion to select such times as must be known materially to interfere with the temporal interests of the parish, and particularly that it should not interfere with seed-time or harvest. 1826. 4.

—— It having been reported to the Assembly that many children in the parish of Bracadale were unbaptised, the Assembly instructed the Presbytery of Skye to see that the ordinance of baptism was regularly administered in said parish. 1826. 5.

—— A presentee having been required by the parishioners to declare in writing his consent to their receiving sealing ordinances from any other minister of the Church, as they had not freedom to receive them from him, the Assembly declared their high disapprobation of any such arrangement, as inconsistent with the constitution of the Church of Scotland and subversive of good order. 1809. 5.

Sacraments. A kirk-session and presbytery having refused the privilege of baptism to a child because the father of said child did not attend the ordinances of religion in his own parish church, the Assembly reversed said judgments, and ordered the child to be baptised, on the ground that the father had a business concern in another parish, which obliged him to be frequently in that parish in the end of the week ; and that he regularly attended divine worship in said parish. 1809, ult.

—— Declared to be contrary to the laws and constitution of this Church for any minister to administer sealing ordinances to those who desert the ministry of their established pastors, and unbecoming and schismatical in neighbouring ministers to give countenance or encouragement to those who stately withdraw themselves from their own congregations. 1810. 5.

—— Declared that it is the law, and has been the immemorial practice of the Church of Scotland to dispense the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to the people seated at or around a communion table or tables, and presbyteries enjoined to use their best endeavours, when churches are rebuilt or re-seated, to have a suitable table or tables provided for the solemn service of the Lord's Supper. 1825. 4; 1827. 5.

—— A minister and kirk-session found to have acted judiciously in refusing to baptise the child of a person who pled guilty to several charges, but refused to express his penitence until his child should be baptised. Com., May 28, 1833.

Sacraments. The kirk-session of a city parish having resolved to dispense the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper four times in the year, the presbytery prohibited the minister from administering it more frequently than it was administered to other congregations in the city, on the ground that the dispensation of the communion was one of the points in which the city must be held to be one parish. The synod reversed the sentence complained of, and left it to the kirk-session to proceed with the administration of the Lord's Supper as to them might seem expedient. The Assembly found that, while legally constituted, kirk-sessions have a right under the control of their respective presbyteries to determine as to the frequency of dispensing the Sacrament of the Supper, such a degree of uniformity as to the dispensation of ordinances in the city churches ought to be observed as may insure a similarity of practice in regard to the frequency of dispensing the Sacrament of the Supper. 1833, ult.

Vote. Resolution to be observed in all time coming—That when the roll is being called over for the purpose of taking the vote, no member happening to be omitted shall have liberty to vote unless he stand up and claim his vote in his place while the names of the commissioners from his presbytery or synod are being called over ; and if the clerk wants to be informed how any person has voted, said person shall be again called upon, and is to stand and speak up his vote. 1748. 7.

—— Declared that by the constant invariable practice of the Assembly, the principal clerk marks the votes while the other clerk calls the roll, and the declaration of the majority by the principal clerk from his marking has been and must be held as decisive, otherwise there could be no end of any dispute, until another method of collecting the votes or dividing the House shall be considered and agreed to. 1771, ult.

—— On a division, the clerk declared a motion carried by a majority of two ; but a protest was taken against intimating the finding, on the ground that the votes had not been correctly marked. The Assembly, however, adhered to the state of the vote as declared by the clerk, which was confirmed by two gentlemen who voted on different sides of the question, and who had also marked the votes. 1771. 5, 6, and 7, ult.

Vote. Ordered that in future the agent for the Church shall call the roll; that the sub-clerk shall, immediately after the several members have pronounced their votes, repeat them with an audible voice; and that the principal clerk shall mark the votes, not from the voices of the members, but from that of the sub-clerk. 1781. 5.

——— Unanimously ordered that, whereas it is highly indecent and improper for any person to vote in any cause who has not been present at the deliberations thereon, before the roll begin to be called the doors of the Assembly House shall be shut, and shall not be opened until the judgment of the Assembly be declared. 1789. vi.

——— When there is more than one amendment, the vote shall be first taken upon the question which of the amendments shall be put against the motion; and this question shall be decided by one or more votes according as there are two or more amendments submitted to the House. 1859. xii. 41.

——— In a case where there were three motions before the House, a fourth motion was made that the Assembly proceed to vote upon the second motion as an amendment against the first, and thereafter the question be put upon the third motion: this fourth motion having been rejected by a great majority, the vote was taken upon the other three simultaneously, the state of the vote being first, second, or third motion. 1819. 6.

——— Resolved that, when the Assembly see fit, the numbers on a division may be ascertained by the members leaving the House by the doors on the right and left of the moderator's chair according as they vote for the first or second motion, the numbers at each door being counted by the mover of one motion and the seconder of the other. 1860. 3.

Vote. In a question as to whether the Commission had exceeded their powers, an objection was taken to those members voting who had been members of the Commission. ——— See ELECTION.

Vote, Casting. In the case of an election of two elders to represent a presbytery in the General Assembly, several were proposed, but on a vote being taken it was found that the three highest had each an equal number of votes. The presbytery allowed the moderator to give a casting vote in favour of two out of the three, and the Assembly without a vote affirmed the judgment of the presbytery and sustained the commission. 1850. 3.

——— The settlement of a presentee ordered to be proceeded with by the casting vote of the moderator. Com., Aug. 11, 1831.

——— It having been discovered at a subsequent diet that a false vote had been given in a case which had been decided by a majority of one, the Assembly held that they could not review their decision nor allow the moderator to give his casting vote, found that no decision had been given, prohibited the clerk from giving extracts, and allowed the case to stand over till next Assembly. 1835, ult.

——— Several errors having been committed in taking the vote, members are expressly enjoined to observe the standing orders, particularly with respect to rising up and speaking articulately when giving their votes, that such irregularities may be detected if they occur in future. 1841. 8.

ACT XII. OF ASSEMBLY 1859.

EDINBURGH, May 30, 1859. Sess. ult.

THE General Assembly called for the Report of the Committee on Standing Orders, and approved of the same; and declare and enact that in future the following shall be observed as the Standing Orders for Regulating the Business of the House :—

AS TO THE COMMISSIONS OF PARTIES ELECTED AS MEMBERS OF ASSEMBLY.

2. Along with commissions in favour of ruling elders, there shall be transmitted to the agent the certificate required by the Act of Assembly 1839, cap. 12, anent the qualification of representative elders.

APPENDIX.

3. All commissions reported by the agent's committee to be defective, or which, on the report of the said committee, shall be objected to by any party having interest, or by any member of Assembly, shall be remitted by the Assembly to a committee of nine of its members, of whom three shall be a quorum ; and the committee of Assembly shall report upon the said commissions to the diet of Assembly held next after the date of the appointment of the said committee.

4. It shall be competent to lodge with the agent for the Church commissions which have not been previously transmitted to him in terms of section 1, supra, at any period during the sitting of the Assembly ; and such commissions shall be submitted by the agent to the Assembly at their meeting on the day next after the day on which the commissions shall have been so lodged, and shall either be disposed of by the Assembly at once, or be remitted to their Committee on Disputed Commissions, as to the Assembly shall seem proper.

5. The Committee on Disputed Commissions shall, if called upon, or if it shall appear to the committee necessary or expedient so to do, hear the party whose commission is objected to, by himself or by his counsel or agent, in support of his commission ; and also any party or parties who may object to such commission.

II.

AS TO CONSTITUTING THE ASSEMBLY, AND THE APPOINTMENT OF, AND PROCEDURE BEFORE, THE COMMITTEES FOR DESPATCH OF BUSINESS.

6. The commissioners elected to serve in the Assembly shall convene in the Assembly Hall on the day fixed for the meeting of Assembly, at the usual hour, and after Sermon, according to the present practice,—when, after prayer by the moderator of the last preceding General Assembly, the names of all parties whose commissions have been lodged with the agent previous to the meeting of Assembly shall be read by him to the House.

7. The election of a moderator shall then be made.

8. Her Majesty's commission to the Lord High Commissioner shall then be read and recorded.

9. Her Majesty's letter to the Assembly shall then be read, and a committee shall be appointed to frame an address in answer thereto.

10. The report of the agent's committee upon commissions transmitted to or otherwise lodged with the agent shall then be called for and read, and shall be disposed of in manner prescribed in section 3, supra.

11. The following committees shall then be nominated,—viz., Committee on Disputed Commissions ; Committee on Overtures ; Committee on Bills ; Committee for Arranging the Order of Business ; Committee for Classing Returns to Overtures ; Committee for Revising the Record of the Commission.

12. When there is a vacancy in any of the offices of the ordinary office-bearers of the Assembly, such steps as to the Assembly may appear proper shall then be taken for supplying the vacancy.

13. The committees appointed in terms of section 11, supra, shall meet respectively at the times and places specified in the minute of their appointment ; and the Committees on Bills and Overtures shall respectively make a report to the Assembly, at its diet next following the diet when the said committees were appointed, and at such times thereafter as the state of the business brought before them may render expedient, or as the Assembly shall direct.

14. The Committee for Arranging the Business of the Assembly shall report to the Assembly from time to time as the state of the business may render expedient ; and the Committee for Revising the Record of the Commission shall report to the Assembly before its close, and as soon as may be after the appointment of the said committee.

15. Overtures from synods or presbyteries shall be presented to the Committee on Overtures by the commissioners from the presbytery, or by the commissioners from some presbytery within the bounds of the synod promoting the overture ; and no overture from a synod or presbytery shall be transmitted to the Assembly by the Committee on Overtures, if not so presented to them.

16. Overtures by individual members of the Assembly shall be presented to the Committee on Overtures by the parties promoting such overtures ; and no such overture shall be transmitted to the Assembly by the Committee on Overtures unless it shall be so presented to the committee.

17. Applications to the Committee on Bills shall be made by petition, subscribed by a party having an interest in the cause or other matter referred to in the said petition, or by his counsel or duly authorised agent ; and in the said petition there shall be specified the cause or other matter sought to be transmitted to the Assembly, and all documents connected therewith also sought to be transmitted.

18. Along with applications for transmission to the Assembly.

of appeals, or of dissents and complaints against the judgments of inferior courts, there shall be produced to the committee an extract of the judgment complained of, and an extract or certified copy of the relative reasons of appeal, or of dissent and complaint, with all documents or copies certified by the clerk of the court whose judgment is appealed against to be correct copies of all documents forming part of the record in the inferior court.

19. In all causes brought up to the Assembly by appeal or otherwise, the record shall be held to consist of the entire minutes of the inferior courts in relation to the cause, and of the evidence, whether parole or documentary, adduced in the same, whether engrossed in the minutes or lodged in the inferior court and kept in retentis ; and no documents not forming part of the record shall be transmitted by the Committee on Bills to the Assembly, in connection with any cause, with the exception of reasons of appeal, or of dissent and complaint, which shall, in all cases where tendered, be transmitted along with the record.

20. When there shall be more than one appeal in the same cause, or more than one dissent and complaint, or one or more appeals, as well as one or more dissents and complaints, it shall not be necessary to produce, along with the petition to the committee in each appeal, or dissent and complaint, the record in the cause, or a certified copy of the same ; but it shall be sufficient to refer to the record, as produced along with the petition relative to any other appeal or dissent and complaint ; provided always, that along with every petition to transmit an appeal, or dissent and complaint, there shall be produced an extract of the judgment complained of.

21. Where any cause shall be referred by an inferior court to the General Assembly, the clerk of such inferior court shall, as soon as may be after the reference has been made, transmit to the agent for the Church the record in such cause, or a duly certified extract or copy of the same ; and along with every application to the committee to transmit such reference to the Assembly, there shall be produced an extract of the minute of the inferior court containing the reference, and the petition shall refer to the record, or to the extract of the same, as having been transmitted to, and as being in the hands of, the agent for the Church.

22. That in the cases specified in the last preceding section, the agent for the Church shall produce to the committee the record in any cause transmitted to him as aforesaid, and referred to in any application to the committee ; and the committee, if they shall agree to transmit the reference to the Assembly, shall transmit, along therewith, the record in the cause.

APPENDIX.

23. That along with all applications to the committee to transmit to the Assembly original petitions, or other applications to the Assembly in the first instance, there shall be produced to the committee a written copy of such petition or other application, subscribed by the party promoting the same, or by his counsel or agent, and all documents referred to in the said petition, or upon which the petitioner intends to found in support of his application, and which are not already before the House.

III.

REGULATIONS AS TO PRINTING.

24. In causes brought before the Assembly by appeal, involving the merits of the cause, the appellants shall print, in the form at present in use, and shall lodge with the agent for the Church, not less than 450 copies of the judgment or deliverance complained of, and relative record, not later than the Monday preceding the day fixed for the meeting of the Assembly; and no such cause shall be entertained by the Assembly, where it shall appear, when the cause is called for discussion, that such prints have not, when the cause is so called, been lodged with the agent for the Church.

25. In causes brought before the Assembly by dissent and complaint, involving the merits of the cause, it shall be optional to the complainers either to comply with the regulations as to printing prescribed by the last preceding section in the case of appeals, or to lodge with the agent for the Church, at the time and in the manner provided with regard to prints in appeals, a complete written copy of the judgment complained of, and relative record.

26. In appeals, or dissents and complaints, upon incidental points not involving the merits of the cause, the appellant or complainer shall print, or furnish written copies, and shall lodge with the agent for the Church, in manner above provided with regard to appeals and dissents and complaints upon the merits, and under a similar sanction, the judgment complained of, and such parts of the relative record as may have a bearing upon the said judgment; provided always, that in the case of such appeals and complaints upon incidental matters, the appellant or complainer shall serve upon the respondent, or his known agent, on the same day on which he shall lodge his print or written copy of the proceedings with the agent for the Church, a similar print or written copy of such proceedings; and it shall be competent for the respondents, at any time before the hearing of the cause, to print, or furnish a written copy, as the case may be, of such additional portions of the proceedings as they may think fit. In all cases where prints are lodged with the agent for the Church, by either of the parties in a cause, in terms of these regulations, the agent shall be entitled, on application made to him for that purpose, to supply six copies of such prints to the opposite party or parties in the cause, or to his or their duly authorised agents.

27. When an inferior court shall refer a cause to the Assembly, the parties to the said cause shall, at their joint expense, print and lodge with the agent for the Church the minute containing the reference and relative record, at the same time as is provided with regard to the print in the case of appeals; under certification that if any of the parties shall refuse to contribute his share of the expense of such print, before the time when the cause is called for discussion, he shall be considered as having deserted the cause, and shall not be entitled to be heard.

28. Parties promoting original petitions, or other applications to the Assembly in the first instance, shall print and lodge with the agent for the Church, on or before the Monday preceding the day on which the Assembly meets, not less than 450 copies of such petition or other application, and of all documents transmitted along therewith to the Assembly by the Committee on Bills; provided always, that in causes arising out of trials for licence or ordination, or out of matters relating to Church ordinances, or any matter not involving the interests of private parties, brought before the Assembly by reference, or by petition presented to the Assembly by any minister or member of a Church court in the discharge of his public duty as such, it shall be optional to the court making the reference, or to the party or parties insisting in such cause, either to print and lodge with the agent printed copies of the proceedings in the same, in manner already provided with regard to appeals, or to lodge with the agent a written copy of the said proceedings, in manner provided with regard to dissents and complaints.

29. The parties promoting any overtures to the General Assembly shall print and lodge with the agent for the Church, on or before the Monday of the week in which the Assembly meets, not less than 450 copies of such overture; provided always, that in the case of any overtures relating to matters emerging after the meeting of the Assembly, such overtures shall be printed and lodged with the agent at least two days before discussion of the same by the Assembly.

APPENDIX.

30. The clerk of the Assembly shall preserve two copies of every print lodged with the agent for the Church in manner above provided ; one copy of which print, having a copy of the judgment of the Assembly in the cause to which it relates prefixed or annexed thereto, shall be bound up and kept in the records, and the other copy, also having the judgment written thereupon, shall be lodged in the library.

IV.

ORDER OF PLEADING IN CAUSES.

31. In causes brought before the Assembly by appeal, or by dissent and complaint, where there is only one appellant or complainer, or one set of appellants or complainers, concurring in the same reasons of appeal, or of dissent and complaint, and one respondent, or one set of respondents, concurring in the same answers to the reasons of appeal, or of dissent and complaint, the case for the appellant, or complainer, shall be stated by himself or by his counsel, who at the same time shall submit such argument upon the case as he shall think fit ; and the party or counsel so stating the appeal or complaint shall be followed by the respondent or his counsel ; and at the close of the answer to the opening statement for the appellant, he shall be entitled to be again heard, and the respondent shall also be entitled to be heard in answer to the second speech for the appellant or complainer ; and if, in his final answer, the respondent or his counsel shall state any fact, or submit any argument not adverted to in his answer to the opening statement for the appellant, the appellant or complainer shall be entitled to a reply upon the new matter introduced in the final answer for the respondent ; but with the exception of this right of reply so limited, in no case shall more than two speeches be allowed to each party at the bar.

32. In such causes as those referred to in the last preceding article, and in which there are more than one appellant or set of appellants, and respondents, insisting on the appeal, or dissent and complaint, or supporting the judgment complained of, on different grounds, and in separate reasons or answers, each appellant, or complainer, shall be entitled to open and state his separate case, and each respondent shall be entitled to make his separate answer, and the debate shall be closed with a reply for the several appellants ; provided always, that it shall be competent to the parties, with consent of the House, to make any arrangement for conducting the debate other than that herein prescribed, which shall have the effect of limiting, farther than is herein done, the number of speeches to be made from the bar.

33. In causes brought before the Assembly by reference from an inferior court, the reference shall be stated to the House by one of the commissioners of the presbytery, or by a commissioner from a presbytery within the bounds of the synod making the reference, in his place as a member of the House, or by some member of such presbytery or synod specially appointed for that purpose; and the Assembly shall thereafter hear the parties in the cause referred, in such order as the shape of the case may seem to require, keeping in view the regulations in the last two preceding articles.

34. It shall be competent for any member of an inferior court whose judgment is brought under review of the Assembly, to appear at the bar in support of the judgment; but where commissioners have been specially appointed by the inferior courts to support their judgment, the Assembly shall not hear any member of such court, other than one of the members so appointed, unless any member not so appointed, and who wishes to be heard, can show a separate and peculiar interest to support the judgment; and it shall, in all such cases, be competent to the Assembly to limit the number of members of an inferior court who shall be heard in support of the judgment under review.

35. Where a judgment of a synod, affirming a judgment of a presbytery, is brought under review of the Assembly, the members of presbytery shall have no status as parties at the bar, except in the character of members of the synod; but where a reversal by a synod, of a judgment of a presbytery, is under review, the presbytery may appear and be heard at the bar of the Assembly, as appellants against the judgment, provided always that they comply with the regulations herein contained, regarding causes brought under review of the Assembly by appeal.

36. Where a synod reverses a judgment of a presbytery, on a dissent and complaint, and the presbytery appeal against the reversal, the complainers in the dissent and complaint to the synod may appear, and be heard at the bar of the Assembly, as respondents to the appeal for the presbytery.

37. In causes brought before the Assembly by petition, or other application to the Assembly in the first instance, the party promoting the said application shall be entitled to be heard in support of the same; and the Assembly, if required so to do, shall also hear an answer from any party upon whom they may have directed such application to be served, or whom they shall consider to be a proper respondent; and the debate at the bar shall be closed with a reply from the party promoting the application.

V.

ORDER OF DEBATE IN THE HOUSE, AND AS TO PUTTING THE QUESTION AND TAKING THE VOTE.

38. It shall be competent to any member of Assembly to make such motion as he shall think fit, upon any matter regularly brought under the consideration of the Assembly; and any member so moving shall state the terms of his motion in writing, to be laid upon the table of the House. It shall not be competent for any member to withdraw a motion which he has once made, or so to vary the terms of his motion as to render the same in substance another motion, without the leave of the Assembly.

39. When a motion so made is seconded, it shall be competent for any member to move an amendment upon the same, of which he shall also state the terms in writing; and when the motion and amendment have been duly made, seconded, and laid upon the table, it shall be competent for any member to be heard in support of one or other of the propositions before the House; and the debate shall be closed with a reply, if he think fit to claim a reply, from the mover of the motion.

40. When there is only one amendment to the motion proposed to the House, the vote shall be taken at the close of the debate, upon the motion and amendment.

41. Where there is more than one amendment, the vote shall be first taken upon the question, which of the amendments shall be put against the motion; and this question shall be decided by one or more votes, according as there are two or more amendments submitted to the House.

42. All motions after the first shall be dealt with as amendments on the first motion, to the effect of being disposed of in manner above provided in article 41.

43. It shall be competent to any member of the House present at the vote to enter upon the minutes a dissent from the judgment or resolution of the House, immediately after the vote; and to lodge thereafter his reasons of dissent, to which any member present at the vote may adhere, either when such dissent is taken, or at the next diet of the Assembly thereafter. But it shall not be competent to enter a dissent at any diet after that at which the resolution dissented from was passed.

VI.

AS TO MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

44. All applications for constitutions for new churches, and the relative documents, shall, along with the feudal titles of the churches and grounds, be transmitted, one month before the meeting of each Assembly, to the Home Mission Committee, or such other committee as the Assembly may have specially appointed for receiving the same, along with extracts of the approval of the proposed constitutions by the presbyteries of the respective bounds, or of their deliverances upon the proposals; and such committee shall revise the proposed constitutions and examine the titles, and report to the Assembly their opinion as to any alterations that should be made on the proposed constitutions, the said committee giving to all parties who may have appeared before the respective presbyteries, eight days' notice of the day fixed for the consideration of their case, in order that they may attend for their interest,—certifying all parties applying for constitutions for new churches, that if they fail so to transmit for revisal and examination the documents aforesaid, their applications will not be entertained by the Assembly: Provided always, that where the said documents have been transmitted, they must also be thereafter regularly passed to the Assembly through the Committee of Bills, in common form; and all parties who have made compearance in the presbyteries shall be entitled, as at present, to be heard before the Assembly to which the applications are so passed, or any committee to be appointed by them, on their objections to the constitutions for the proposed churches, or to the report of the Home Mission, or other committee specially appointed as aforesaid.

45. Manuscript reports to the Assembly shall be written upon foolscap paper, and so as to admit of being bound up into volumes, and it shall not then be necessary to engross them in the Record.

46. Where several overtures have been transmitted to presbyteries by the Assembly, the return by the presbytery to each overture shall be written upon a separate sheet of foolscap paper.

47. The Standing Orders shall be read over by one of the clerks on the first day of the meeting of every Assembly, if any member shall require that they shall be so read; and any motion for repeal or amendment of any of the Orders shall be brought before the Assembly in like manner with overtures in regard to other matters; provided always, that it shall be competent to the Assembly, on the motion of any member to that effect, and on cause shown, summarily to dispense with the observance of the Standing Orders, or of any of them, in any particular case.

CLOSING OF THE ASSEMBLY.

48. When the business set down for the last Monday of the sitting of the Assembly shall have been disposed of, the Assembly shall be closed by addresses from the Moderator to the Assembly and to his Grace the Commissioner, and by the Commissioner to the Assembly; and with devotional exercises, according to the practice of the Assembly.

VIII.

AN ACT TO REMOVE DOUBTS RESPECTING THE ADMISSION OF MINISTERS TO BENEFICES IN THAT PART OF THE UNITED KINGDOM CALLED SCOTLAND.—(6 & 7 Vict., cap. 61.—17th August 1843.)

WHEREAS certain Acts of the Parliament of Scotland, and of the United Kingdom of Great Britain, have declared that the right of collation in regard to the settlement of ministers in the parishes to which they may be presented, belongs to the Church established by law in that part of the United Kingdom called Scotland: And whereas provision has been made by these Statutes for securing to the Church the exclusive right of examining and admitting any person who may be presented to a benefice having cure by the patron of such benefice; and in particular by an Act passed in the Parliament of Scotland in the year one thousand five hundred and sixty-seven, intituled “Admission of Ministers;” of Laick Patronages, it is statute and ordained, that the examination and admission of ministers within this realm be only in the power of the Kirk now openlie and publicly professed within the samin, the presentation of laick patronage alwaies reserved to the just and auncient patrones; and by an Act passed in the Parliament of

APPENDIX.

Scotland in the year one thousand five hundred and ninety-two, intituled "Ratification of the Liberty of the trew Kirk," the government of the Church by presbyteries, synods, and general assemblies was ratified and established, and it was ordained that all presentations to benefices be direct to the particular presbyteries in all time cumming, with full power to give collation thereupon, and to put ordour to all maters and causes ecclesiastical within their boundes according to the discipline of the Kirk ; providing the foresaids presbyteries be bound and astricted to receive and admit whatsumever qualified minister presented be His Majesty or laick patrones ; and by an Act of the Parliament of Great Britain passed in the tenth year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Anne, intituled "An Act to restore the Patrones to their ancient Rights of presenting Ministers to the Churches vacant in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland," the right of the Church to receive and admit persons presented to benefices was again recognised and secured ; and by an Act of the Parliament of Great Britain passed in the fifth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the First, intituled "An Act for making more effectual the Laws appointing the Oaths for Security of the Government to be taken by Ministers and Preachers in Churches in Scotland, providing that certain Oaths should be taken by Ministers and Preachers of the Church of Scotland, and for preventing Delays in the supplying or filling up of vacant Churches in Scotland," it is also declared and enacted that nothing herein contained shall prejudice or diminish the rights of the Church, as the same now stands by law established, as to the trying of the qualities of any person presented to any church or benefice : And whereas it is expedient to remove any doubt which may exist as to the powers and jurisdiction of the Church as by law established in Scotland in the matter of collation, and as to the right of the Church to decide that no person be settled in any parish or benefice having cure against whom or whose settlement in such parish or benefice there exists any just cause of exception : May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be declared and enacted, and be it declared and enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That when a presentation to any benefice within that part of the United Kingdom called Scotland by the undoubted patron has been laid before the presbytery of the bounds, it shall and may be lawful for the presbytery, as part and as the commencement of the proceedings in the examination and admission of the person so presented for the cure of that parish, and of the trial of his gifts and qualities, to appoint him to preach in the church of the said parish at such times as the presbytery may direct, or as may be directed by any regulations of the General Assembly to that effect; and after the presentee shall have preached in the parish church according to the directions of the presbytery, the presbytery, or a committee of their number, shall meet, after due notice, at the said church, and shall intimate that if any one or more parishioners being members of the congregation have any objection to the individual so presented, in respect to his ministerial gifts and qualities, either in general or with reference to that particular parish, or any reason to state against his settlement in that parish, and which objections or reasons do not infer matter of charge against the presentee to be prosecuted and followed out according to the forms and discipline of the Church, the presbytery are ready, either then or at their next meeting, to receive the same in writing, or to write down the same in their minutes in the form and manner which such parishioners may desire.

II. And be it enacted, That the objections or reasons aforesaid shall be fully considered and disposed of by the presbytery by whom they are to be cognosced and determined on judicially, or shall be referred by the presbytery to the superior judicatory of the Church for decision, as the presbytery may see cause, the presentee and all parties having interest being heard in either case on the same; and the presbytery or other judicatory of the Church to whom the said objections or reasons shall be stated or referred as aforesaid shall, in cognoscing and determining on the same judicially, have regard only to such objections and reasons so stated as are personal to the presentee in regard to his ministerial gifts and qualities, either in general or with respect to that particular parish, but shall be entitled to have regard to the whole circumstances and condition of the parish, to the spiritual welfare and edification of the people, and to the character and number of the persons by whom the said objections or reasons shall be preferred; and if the presbytery or other judicatory of the Church shall come to the conclusion, as their judgment on the whole matter, that the said objections or reasons, or any of them, are well founded, and that in respect thereof the individual presented is not a qualified and suitable person for the functions of the ministry in that particular parish, and ought not to be settled in the same, they shall pronounce a deliverance to that effect, and shall set forth and specify in such deliverance the special ground or grounds on which it is founded, and in respect of which they find that the presentee is not qualified for that charge, in which event they shall intimate their deliverance respecting the presentee to the patron, who shall thereupon have power to issue another presentation within the period of six calendar months after the date of such deliverance if no appeal shall be taken to a superior judicatory of the Church, or in the event of an appeal being taken to a superior judicatory of the Church, then within six months after the date of the judgment of the superior judicatory of the Church affirming the deliverance of the inferior judicatory of the Church or dismissing the appeal.

III. And be it enacted, That if the presbytery or other judicatory of the Church, after considering all the objections aforesaid to the presentee, and all the reasons stated against his settlement in that particular parish, shall be satisfied, in the discharge of their functions and in the exercise of their authority and duty as ministers of the gospel and as office-bearers in the Church, that no good objections against the individual or no good reason against his settlement has been stated as aforesaid, or that the objections and reasons stated are not truly founded in any objection personal to the presentee in regard to his ministerial gifts and qualities, either in general or with reference to that particular parish, or arise from causeless prejudices, the said presbytery or other judicatory of the Church shall repel the same, and, subject to the right of appeal as herein-after provided, shall complete the further trials and examination of the presentee, and, if found by them to be qualified for the ministry in that parish, shall admit and receive him into the benefice as by law provided.

IV. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any presbytery or other judicatory of the Church to reject any presentee upon the ground of any mere dissent or dislike expressed by any part of the congregation of the parish to which he is presented, and which dissent or dislike shall not be founded upon objections or reasons to be fully cognosed, judged of, and determined in the manner aforesaid by the said presbytery or other judicatory of the Church.

V. And be it enacted, That it shall be in the power of the presentee, patron, or objectors to appeal from any deliverance pronounced as aforesaid by the said presbytery acting within its competency as a judicatory of the Church, which appeal shall lie exclusively to the superior judicatories of the Church according to the forms and government of the Church of Scotland as by law established.

APPENDIX.

VI. And whereas by an Act of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, of date twenty-ninth May One thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, it was made an instruction to presbyteries that if at the moderating in a call to a vacant parish the major part of the male heads of families, members of the vacant congregation and in full communion with the Church, shall disapprove of the person in whose favour the call is proposed to be moderated in, such disapproval shall be deemed sufficient ground for the presbytery rejecting such person, and that he shall be rejected accordingly, and certain regulations were passed for carrying the said instructions into effect: And whereas it has been found by final judgment of the Court of Session, affirmed by the House of Lords, that a presbytery, acting in pursuance of said Act of Assembly and regulations, refusing to take trial of the qualifications of a presentee, and rejecting him on the sole ground that a majority of the male heads of families communicants in the said parish have dissented, without any reasons assigned, from his admission as minister, acted illegally and in violation of their duty, and contrary to the provisions of certain statutes of the realm, and particularly the statute of the tenth year of Queen Anne, chapter twelve. intituled “An Act to restore Patrons to their ancient Rights of presenting Ministers to the Churches vacant in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland:” And whereas in some instances a presentee has, in pursuance of the said Act of Assembly and regulations relative thereto, been rejected by a presbytery because of the dissents of male heads of families communicants, and a presentation has thereafter been issued in favour of a second or subsequent presentee, who has been settled in the same benefice, and whose settlement therein and right thereto have not been questioned in any court of law: And whereas it is expedient that such settlement in and right to the benefice should be secured and protected from future challenge on the ground of the incompetency of the rejection of the first or prior presentee; be it enacted, That it shall not be competent to challenge the settlement or right to the benefice of any such second or subsequent presentee, or to maintain any proceedings at law against the presbytery or ministers thereof, or other parties, on account of such rejection, unless such challenge or proceedings shall have been instituted by action raised in a court of law before the first day of May last.
